Shree Naranji bhai Lalbhai Patel College of Pharmacy, Umrakh has organized a museum visit on 6th January 2023, for the first year B. Pharm students as a part of Azadi ka Amrut Mahotsav. Dr. Ketan Shah, Dr. Tanvi Desai, Mr. Bhumin Pathak, Ms. Nikita Vaghela, Mr. Dhruvin Maisuria and Mr. Jenish Patel along with 107 students of first semester visited Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel National Memorial Museum-Bardoli.

The Sardar Patel Museum is in Bardoli- Surat, Gujarat, India, and was established in 1890. At the time of establishment, the museum was well known as the Winchester Museum. The museum was named Sardar Patel Museum after independence. The museum is also known as Sardar Sangrahalaya. Sardar Patel Museum has variety of things to explore. This museum is a rich repository of Patel's life arc as a political leader and thinker, and giving considerable space to other luminaries who crossed his path. The museum consists of a planetarium, ancient relics, paintings, science gallery, amphitheatre, art gallery, auditorium and restaurant. The audio in the auditorium are in three languages-Hindi, Gujarati and English. The museum has more than eight thousand relics and antiques. Students visited this museum for around two hours and learn about the life of freedom fighters and their fight for freedom and independent India. students also explored the history of our nation, unity of people and zest for freedom. Students had an inspiratory visit of the Sardar Patel Museum.

We are thankful to the team of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel National Memorial Museum-Bardoli and management of SNLPCP, Umrakh for granting permission, and to Dr. Ketan V. Shah, Principal, SNLPCP for his help and support to make this visit fruitful.
