1. Introduction

Shree Naranjibhai Lalbhai Patel College of Pharmacy, Umrakh, organized a spiritual awareness session titled "Shrimad Bhagavat: Jivan Ni Pathsala" on 17th November 2025. The event was conducted under the guidance of the Vidyabharti Trust Institution to promote holistic education by blending academic excellence with moral and spiritual development.

2. Objective

The primary objective of this event was to instill a deeper understanding among students about the role of spirituality in personal and professional growth. The talk aimed to inspire young minds to cultivate self-discipline, ethical decision-making, and a compassionate outlook, thereby fostering character formation alongside intellectual advancement.

3. Program Proceedings

The Vidyabharti Trust Institution, Shree Naranjibhai Lalbhai Patel College of Pharmacy, Umrakh, organized a spiritual talk titled "Shrimad Bhagavat: Jivan Ni Pathsala" on 17 November 2025 at the Seminar Hall, SNLPCP, Umrakh. The programme was organized in collaboration with Swadhyay Pariwar, Bardoli, with the aim of introducing students to the practical life lessons embedded in Shrimad Bhagavat.

The session began at 11:30 am with a brief introduction of the event and its objectives. This was followed by an invocation and a short prayer, creating a peaceful and positive atmosphere in the hall. Faculty members and students gathered in large numbers. About 110 students attended the session.

The college had the privilege of hosting two distinguished speakers from Swadhyay Pariwar, Bardoli:

- Mr. Vinitbhai N. Kapdi, and
- Mr. Karanbhai S. Patil.

Both speakers are actively involved in spiritual activities and youth guidance through the Swadhyay movement, and they brought rich experience in explaining scriptures in a simple, contemporary manner.

In his address, Mr. Vinitbhai Kapdi focused on the central message of Shrimad Bhagavat as a guide for day-to-day living rather than only a religious text. He highlighted how stories from the scripture teach core values such as truthfulness, humility, compassion, self-control and dedication to duty. He explained that students often face stress, confusion and comparison, and showed how adopting a faith-based yet rational outlook can help them remain stable and focused. Through real-life examples, he connected the teachings with issues like academic pressure, distractions from social media, and the need for time management.

Mr. Karanbhai Patil continued the session by emphasising the importance of "Jivan Ni Pathsala" – treating life itself as a continuous school. He spoke about gratitude towards parents and teachers, responsible use of freedom, and the role of inner character in professional success. He also discussed how spiritual values do not contradict science and pharmacy education, but instead provide a strong ethical base for future healthcare professionals. His interactive style, use of anecdotes, and simple Gujarati expressions kept the students engaged throughout.

Both speakers encouraged students to reflect on their own habits and mindset rather than only listening passively. At several points, they invited responses from the audience, which led to a healthy discussion on topics such as handling failure, avoiding negative company, and staying grounded despite achievements. Many students expressed that the talk helped them see spirituality as practical guidance rather than something distant from daily life.

The session concluded with a short question–answer round, where students raised queries about balancing spiritual practice with a busy academic schedule and about maintaining consistency in positive habits. The speakers responded with clear and motivating answers, suggesting small, realistic steps like regular self-reflection, respectful behaviour at home and college, and cultivating a habit of gratitude.

The programme was smoothly coordinated by Mr. Yash Dudhwala (Coordinator) under the guidance of Dr. Ketan Shah (Convener). The college management and faculty members provided full support in planning, venue arrangements and student mobilization. A formal vote of thanks was proposed, expressing sincere appreciation to Swadhyay Pariwar, Bardoli and to both the speakers, Mr. Vinitbhai N. Kapdi and Mr. Karanbhai S. Patil, for sharing their valuable time and insights. Thanks were also extended to all faculty members, non-teaching staff and students for their active participation and cooperation.

Overall, "Shrimad Bhagavat: Jivan Ni Pathsala" proved to be a meaningful and enriching programme. It not only introduced students to the teachings of Shrimad Bhagavat but also inspired them to integrate ethical and spiritual values into their personal and professional lives. The feedback received from participants was very positive, and many requested that similar value-based sessions be organised regularly in the future.
